MONDAY EVE'G., SEPTEMBER 29.

PROF. LANGSTON, of this city, in an address at Greenfield, Ohio, spoke as follows concerning a charge made against the Republican party lately, viz: That in the distribution of office the colored men are entirely ignored. The figures in regard to the number of colored men in the Departments in Washington are interesting: In the Treasury Department there were employed on the 13th of September, 1873, 19 ployed on the 13th of September, 1873, 13 nouncement that I am fall use. clerks and 296 messengers and laborers. To- pared to fill orders for fall use. R. M. LAWSON.

In the department of the Interior there were emploped at the same date; Registers of Land Office, 2; clerks, 4; messengers and laborers, 78.

In the Navy Department : Messengers and laborers, 17 to 75 white.

In the War Department there were 34 colored men in the various bureaus from April 1, 1861, to April 1, 1865, and from the last to the present date there were at least 98 employed, one as an apothecary.

This statement, as well as the one in regard to the Navy Department, only refers to the employees in the several bureau offices at Washington, and does not include those employed in the city, in other cities, or in the field, or in the various navy yards, or upon United States

In the Postoffice Department there are employed 8 postmasters, (2 first class,) 3 special agents, 5 route agents, 1 railway postoffice head clerk, 2 first class clerks, and 18 messengers and laborers. This includes mainly the employees of the Postoffice Department at Washington, and not the employees of the various postoffices throughout the country. In the Department of Justice there are one clerk, one chief messenger, and six assistant messengers and laborers.

In the Department of State there have been appointed three ministers resident and consuls general, two consuls, one chief messenger and nine laborers. - Washington Republican.
